A good rain would be welcome. The crops need it.

Where did that meteor strike is the question today.

Now that the Hague conference has decided to let armament limitation alone we can proceed to spend unlimited millions on naval vessels.

New York has obligations due of about $4,000,000 and only $1,000,000 with which to pay them. What's worse the city is unable to borrow through the sale of bonds. Boston is also having trouble trying to sell bonds. It's a good time now for cities to practice economy.

What purported to be a forecast of President Roosevelt's speech at Provincetown tomorrow caused a gain in Wall street the other day, but a forecast of what Secretary Taft is expected to say at Columbus today caused a decline.
Both forecasts were guesswork, but Wall street shrank at its own shadow.

Governor Charles E. Hughes has accepted the invitation of the Vermont Fish and Game League to be present at its banquet at Hotel Champlain on September 6th. Governor Hughes may be expected to give the members something to think about. Will the league meeting start soon for Hughes for president?

A man in Brattleboro, who tried to collect a $500 fire insurance policy at the point of a revolver, was glad to settle for $30 when the adjustors told him where some of the property supposed to have been destroyed by fire could be found. The man also promised to leave town as soon as possible. It was learned that he had been turned out under similar circumstances only a short time before in Northampton, Mass.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Joseph Medill Patterson, Chicago journalist, clubman and politician, has written a novel dealing with New York society and the stage.

While in London Mark Twain went with Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema to view the latter's new painting "Carolina and Geta." It presents a bear batting bats in the Colosseum, and it has been rumored that this country is to be its destination.

John Quincy Adams Ward, foremost and oldest of living American sculptors, is seventy-five years old. He is still working as hard as ever. As a youth he worked in a pottery in Urbana, O., where he formed a love for modeling which led him to his chosen profession.

Professor Kappay, the Austrian painter, while in New York recently did several portraits, among them that of John D. Rockefeller. Professor Kappay, it is understood, received $50,000 for portraits painted in America, which is not a bad return for six months' work.

We never enjoy perfect happiness.
Our most fortunate successes are mingled with sadness. Some anxieties always perplex us, reality of our satisfaction.—Cornelius.

peared in England during the reign of Edward III.

HULDAH SAYS:

"If you wish to avoid the dampness of the grass when you are using the lawn at night, why don't you buy the CREX Rugs? They are a sort of carpet matting that will stand awfully hard usage."
